Edit Share Pursuing My True I is the opening theme for Persona 4. This is the first track on Persona 4 Original Soundtrack. The song is sung by Shihoko Hirata. It is played during the opening episode of Persona 4 Animation. The chorus from this song can be heard on the theme of the boss I will encounter myself. The extended version was released on Never More -Reincarnation: Persona 4. In Persona 4: Dancing All Night, this song was used for Rise, and two remixes arranged by Ryata Kozuka and Shinichi Osawa, which are used for Chi and Teddy. The concert version is here. Lyrics (edit source editing) We live our lives teeming with so much information Come on, let go of the remote control: Don't you know you're letting all the junk flood in? I try to stop the flow by clicking twice on the go, but it's not used; Hey, I consumed loading loading, Quickly reaching the maximum power warning warning, going short circuit my personality (ahhhhh) Get back on my feet, tear down the walls Catch a glimpse of the hollow world of snooping round will help you nowhere you are locked in your mind We are all trapped in a maze of relationships life continues with or without you I swim to the sea, pursuing my true self Persona 4 - Reincarnation - Pursuing my true Self We live our lives teeming with so much information. let go of the remote you don't know you're letting all the junk flood in? I try to stop the flow by twice clicking on the go, but it's not to use, hey I consumed loading loading, quickly reaching the maximum power warning warning, going short circuit my personality (ahhhhh) Get back on my feet, tear down the walls Catch a glimpse of the hollow world snooping round will get you nowhere you locked in your mind We are all trapped by the sea of unconsciousness I look for your heart Chasing my true self to stand up, get up, it's time to get real can't control the steering wheel, the outside is in the veil of mystery will not come out so easily We live our lives and we understand what is happening Hey Brother, watch yourself Grab your stuff, do not miss your chance to find your own rhythm and dance your own dance Be a creative chart your course you should know that you should know that Driving through the deep end of the ocean Leaving the obscurity you are standing in the middle of another world It is difficult to feel your real emotions You smile in a shirt wet with bitter tears Let me help you find a place to call it home We are all trapped in a maze of relationships life continues with or without you I swim in the sea of unconsciousness I find your heart Pursuing my true Self Persona 4 Songs of Community content is available according to CC-BY-SA unless otherwise stated.
